

Women in to Leadership – Thinking of Leadership?

The Suffolk Borders Teaching Alliance is proud to be running a brand new DfE/NCTL supported and recognised Women in Leadership programme. Staff are invited to apply to take part in this tailored programme which will provide significant personal development and professional learning.

The programme has been designed for female teaching and support staff considering promotion to a middle or senior leadership post within a primary or secondary school context.

If you want to develop your leadership skills further or just need to boost your self-belief and confidence then this programme is for you!

Programme Objectives include:

- support delegates in reviewing and evaluating their own strengths and areas for development
- support delegates in developing a direction for their future career and the next step for promotion to leadership
- facilitate discussion of different styles and the effectiveness of approaches to leadership in a time of constant change
- provide the opportunity for delegates to experience different school contexts to see what leadership looks like

Programme Outcomes for delegates include:

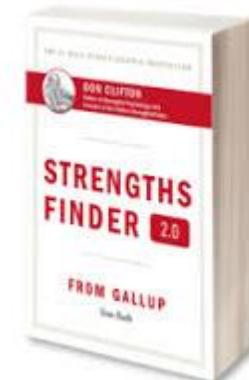

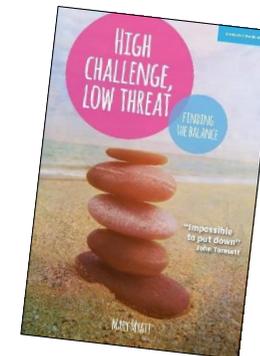

- be sure of their strengths and areas for development
- be aware of practical approaches and knowledge to use in order to make informed 'next step' decisions and steps
- have informed views of successful, inspiring leadership drawn from a wealth of insights and shared experiences from outside their current context

Programme sessions:

Each of the four facilitated sessions will be hosted in schools of the Samuel Ward Academy Trust (as detailed overleaf) and will run from as a Twilight Session, from 4pm – 5.30pm.

Total Programme Cost:

£100 provides delegates with all programme materials, facilitated sessions, access to coaching, refreshments and a complimentary copy of these two inspiring and insightful leadership books ....
